This agreement applies when a company uses prepza to assess candidates. The company is the controller of its candidates' data and Arcolabs OÜ (registry code 17587452), Sepapaja tn 6, 15551 Tallinn, Harju maakond, Estonia, processes it on the company's behalf. It forms part of the terms and is accepted with them; nothing needs to be signed.

What is processed

- Purpose: running the company's interviews: inviting candidates, timing and scoring their answers, showing the company the results and the integrity signals, sending the emails the company asks for, and keeping the results for the company.
- People: the candidates the company invites or who apply through its link, and the members of the company.
- Data: candidates' email addresses, names and account ids from their sign-in, their answers, how long each took, page leaves and copy attempts during the interview, any extra time the company gives them (without a reason), and the results; and the emails of people the company sends a report to.
- Duration: while the company uses prepza. Candidates' results are deleted 12 months after their invitation was sent, and everything when the company is deleted.

Our duties

- We process the data only to provide prepza as the company uses it, following its instructions given through the product and these terms, unless the law requires otherwise; we tell the company if an instruction seems to break data protection law.
- Everyone who can access the data is bound to confidentiality.
- We keep the data secure: encrypted in transit and at rest, access limited to what each service needs, sign-in through Google, signed calls between services, backups with point-in-time recovery, error reports without email addresses, and logs kept briefly.
- We help the company answer candidates' requests (access, correction, deletion, objection, review by a person) and with its impact assessments and consultations, as far as the information is ours.
- We tell the company without undue delay, and within 48 hours where we can, after becoming aware of a breach of its data, with what we know.
- At the end, the data is deleted as described above; the company can download its results before deleting its company.
- We give the company the information needed to show that this agreement is kept, and answer reasonable audit questions in writing.

Sub-processors

The company authorises these sub-processors, each bound by data protection terms at least as protective as these:

- Google Cloud (hosting, database, events) and Google Firebase (sign-in).
- OpenAI (writing and improving questions, including checking reported questions by the reasons given, never their comments; under its API terms nothing is used for training).
- Resend (emails).
- Sentry (error reports, without email addresses).
- Upstash (short-lived counters for limits and live updates).

Changes and transfers

We announce a new sub-processor at least 14 days before it starts, by email or in the app; a company that objects for reasonable data protection reasons can stop using prepza and delete its company.

Transfers outside the EU are covered by the EU-US Data Privacy Framework or the European Commission's standard contractual clauses.

The company's duties

- The company has a lawful basis to assess its candidates, tells them how their results are used, and answers their requests.
- A candidate who deletes their own prepza account erases their answers and results with it, for every company; the company sees them as a deleted candidate.
- prepza makes no decision about a candidate. The company reviews results before deciding, doesn't reject a candidate on the score alone, gives candidates who need it an accommodation such as extra time, and lets a candidate ask for a person to review their result.
- Where the law requires it, the company carries out an impact assessment, and gives candidates the notices its jurisdiction requires.
